

The Public Accountancy Permit

Your passport to the CPA auditor designation

In Quebec, public accountancy is professional activity reserved for CPAs.

Only individuals who hold a public accountancy permit may carry out certain activities related to public accountancy.

TWO TYPES OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTANCY PERMITS

TYPES OF PERMITS	PUBLIC ACCOUNTANCY PERMIT	PUBLIC ACCOUNTANCY PERMIT LIMITED TO REVIEW ENGAGEMENTS
ASSOCIATED DESIGNATIONS	CPA auditor	CPA auditor limited to review engagements
ALLOWED ACTIVITIES	This permit allows its holders to conduct assurance engagements, i.e. audit and/or review engagements.	This permit allows its holders to sign review engagement reports only.

Here is a brief description of the public accountancy-related services that CPAs may provide when they hold the appropriate permit.

These services, known as engagements, are mainly related to an organization's financial statements. The type of engagement required depends on the client's needs.

THREE TYPES OF ENGAGEMENTS

	AUDIT ENGAGEMENT	REVIEW ENGAGEMENT	COMPILATION ENGAGEMENT*
THE CPA'S ROLE	Set up procedures based on identified risks to provide reasonable assurance that the financial statements do not contain material misstatements.	Review financial statements to make sure that they are credible and therefore trustworthy.	Receive information from the client and present it as financial statements. Ensure the accuracy and effectiveness of the calculations and data groupings.
TASKS	Understand the internal controls in place and validate the selected accounting policies and accounting estimates produced by management.	Review information requests and analytical procedures in discussion with the client's management.	Assemble the accounting information provided by the client and compile and arrange the figures for presentation in the financial statements.
ENGAGEMENT OUTCOME	The audit engagement report provides a thorough professional analysis of a company's or an organization's financial position. It then serves as an expression of confidence for officers, creditors, investors and citizens when it concerns a public organization.	The review engagement report confirms that there is no reason to believe that the financial statements are not in accordance with accounting standards.	The compilation engagement report discloses the group of data that was provided by the client and presented as the financial statements, but does not provide any assurance or opinion as to the accuracy of the data.
LEVEL OF ASSURANCE OBTAINED 	Reasonable assurance 	Limited assurance 	No assurance

* Compilation engagements may be performed by all CPAs, who do not require a public accountancy permit to conduct them.

 CPAs provide different levels of assurance to guarantee the reliability and credibility of financial statements by performing one of these three types of engagements. In this way, they are able to provide a level of assurance that is commensurate with the financial issues at stake.

KEEPING YOUR PUBLIC ACCOUNTANCY PERMIT

A PRIVILEGE THAT COMES WITH OBLIGATIONS TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC

To retain their right to practice public accountancy, CPAs must at all times satisfy the following obligations:

1. Use the CPA auditor designation whenever they perform activities related to assurance, and specifically when they sign audit or review reports;
2. Accumulate 120 hours of continuing education per three-year period, including 60 structured hours in public accountancy.
